It's easy to fall in love with the Autumnwood Collection

There's only one thing you'll love more than the beauty of Autumnwood Collection Super Polymer Siding – and that's the easy maintenance. You can hang up your brushes and say goodbye to scraping and painting because Autumnwood is virtually maintenance free.

The woodbark texture gives you an authentic wood surface impression. It looks like real wood... but doesn't split, rot, flake or peel. So instead of spending your time painting, you can spend your time admiring your home.

An outstanding choice for siding

Autumnwood Collection is one of Heartland's finest Super Polymer Sidings. Homeowners appreciate the latex soft, wood grain finish. Eliminating unsightly glaring helps Autumnwood finished homes achieve a look of subtle sophistication. Builders and renovators like the post-formed lock that is engineered to provide a positive locking system to keep the siding firmly in place on the wall.

For excellent features and practical value to match, Autumnwood Collection is the choice for you.

The beauty of Autumnwood Super Polymer Siding is simply maintained by rinsing it with a garden hose.

Engineered for Long Lasting Durability

Autumnwood Super Polymer Siding is precisely formulated through computerized blending of the finest high-grade raw materials delivering outstanding protection and performance. Our Super Polymer formulation resists fading, cracking, and thermal expansion and contraction.

In a busy household, scratches and abrasions can happen. That's why we've carefully formulated a unique combination of inorganic pigments, additives, impact modifiers, and PVC resins to ensure color saturation and allow scratches to virtually disappear. Plus, it reflects heat away from exterior walls and deflect damaging infrared solar rays.

We've specially developed anti-weathering materials, including SPX-2000 UV Blocker, that are melded into the siding surface to fight exposure to the elements and the destructive effects of the sun's UV rays. The result is long lasting color fidelity and maintenance freedom for your home's exterior.

Heartland Siding products feature the Color-Keeper™ Anti-Fade Protection Guarantee. Every Heartland color formula is meticulously engineered with the finest mix of ingredients that build a stronger molecular chain for superior color retention. Whether you choose from our Lifestyle, Americana, or Signature Collection, the Color-Keeper Guarantee will provide peace of mind for years to come.
